The Secession Democracy

Never was there a more pitiable failure than the attempt of the "Breck and Mc" folks to get up a public gathering which would tell, than that at the theatre on Tuesday evening. The Portland Brass Band was in attendance, and played well—the only good thing during the evening. W. W. Page opened the ball. He discoursed in the most theatrical manner of which he was capable, of his love for that old flag, for the Union, but not near so well as his master Breckinridge who proclaimed his loyalty in the Senate Chamber when plotting treason, and a few days after took his perjured carcass over to the rebels. "Breck" boasted of his democracy, too. Page informed us that the blood of his kind of democracy watered the field of Fort Donelson and Pittsburg Landing. True, but on which side? He threw himself into the most violent contortions, when speaking of Mr. Lincoln, "backed by five hundred thousand bayonets, all pointed at the breast of Chief Justice Taney, suspending the writ of habeas corpus." It would doubtless suit Page, Waite & Co to have old Taney issue a writ of habeas corpus and release their friends taken prisoners, at Forts Henry, Donelson, Island No. 10, Pittsburg Landing, &c. But it won't suit the loyal people of these States so well. Does Mr Page realize that these men are rebels, that they hold high places as they had taken solemn oaths, that foul perjury has become their accustomed food and that it is these men who have brought this unparalleled infliction upon the country? Page felt badly. In this he was honest; because the Administration gave up Mason and Slidell. A war with Great Britain was what Jeff. Davis wanted, what Mason and Slidell both wanted; what all the rebels wanted what Page, Wait, Miller & Co wanted, but which the Administration determined they should not have. One thing at a time, Mr. Page. This rebellion first and other things in due season.

Judge Wait next appeared on the stand. He first remarked that if there was any one who ought to be a Union man it was a democrat. Very true, Mr Wait. Davis, Breckinridge, Toombs, Wigfall, all have received many benefits from this Government, and ought to be good Union men, but the trouble is they are not. They first formed a conspiracy to break up the democratic party, at Charleston, as a means of breaking up this Union. And the only democratic party now in existence dates back no longer than to the Charleston Convention, when the villains who control this rebellion, being in the minority withdrew from the Convention because Mr Douglas was an abolitionist. Mr Wait thought this Union ought to be preserved could be preserved by compromises. "He had reflected about this matter for four months, yea, for six months," and he "verily believed it could be preserved by compromises." Why then, did not the perjured villains for whom you apologize compromise on Mr. Douglas for President? Why, when the Chief Executive of this nation, in the discharge of his executive duties, send an unarmed vessel to carry food to a small company of starved men, did they not evince their disposition to compromise? How where when did the arch traitors who control this rebellion, evince a disposition to compromise? Was it when Wigfall declared in his seat in the Senate that if he had a blank sheet of paper he would not write the terms of adjustment? Was it when the secessionists of Baltimore attacked Northern troops on their way to the Capital? Was it when Southern traitors turned towards Washington to thrust out by force the constitutionally elected authorities of the Republic?

Mr. Wait had no words of denunciation for the Southern Confederacy, but for the Lincoln Government the English language was too poor to picture his indignation, because Mr. Lincoln had not paid quite so much attention to some papers issued in behalf of the rebellion by the Courts, and because he had ordered the Postmaster not to forward the New York Day Book, which was in the interest of the rebels. This was horrible, horrible, horrible!

The Secesh Convention.

CORVALLIS, April 18th, 1862.

Ed. of Oregonian:

Dear Sir—The so called Democratic Convention assembled in this place on the 16th inst. The counties were not fully represented. There were but four persons present from Southern Oregon. Mr. O'Meara constituted the twelve delegates from Jackson county. Prior to the meeting of the Convention there was great diversity of opinion as to what should be the platform. After the temporary organization was effected, printed slips were circulated containing the views of different delegations as to what the platform should be. When the Convention assembled the platform presented by Dr. Loryea, amended by Pat Malone, was adopted. This platform speaks for itself! It assumes that the present war is an abolition war, and as a necessary implication those who support the war are abolitionists. The members of the convention generally expressed a willingness to take anybody from any party to be their candidates, provided they could be available.

Judge Wait was agreed upon for Congress for the reason as near as I could learn, that his political views were more diluted and [illegible] than those of any other man named in connection with the candidacy. Judge Wait is understood to be a man who believed in the doctrines of Breckinridge and voted for Douglas. He is also understood to be like many others of his party both for and against the war, and decidedly heavy upon a compromise with Jeff Davis.

After the nomination for Congress—Gov. Whiteaker was nominated as a candidate for re-election by Mr. Snelling in a very pretty and complimentary speech. J. C. Avery was put in nomination. Mr. Newell nominated J. S. Ruckle, and stated as a reason that he belonged to the Oregon Steam Navigation Company; that they had a large number of men employed in building a railroad in Wasco county; that the Superintendent ([illegible]) had been nominated by the Union men, and that unless some means were taken to prevent it the whole of that vote would go for the Union ticket.

Mr. O'Meara and another member objected to Whiteaker because the people were displeased with his appointment of Stark and his proclamation. O'Meara said he liked Gov. Whiteaker, but was strongly for Avery. A member from Marion county nominated Mr. Farrar. Newell said that he was very intimate with Farrar, that he could not tell where he was, that he was neither 'pig or puppy.' Loryea said he was all right now but didn't know how long he would be so. Various other remarks were made by members to the amusement of the crowd, and Mr. Farrar's name was withdrawn. Col. Kelly was also nominated, but doubts were expressed about his accepting the nomination, and he was dropped. Fair dealing and facts within the knowledge of most of the members of the Convention, required a similar course as to Col. Farrar. After several ballotings John F. Miller was put in nomination, and in a few ballots chosen as the candidate. Miller is a clever, gentlemanly man, but has been a most decided pro slavery partisan in Oregon, was an original, thorough paced Breckinridger; has friends and relatives involved in secession, and there is no doubt that his sympathies are as strong for the secession cause as prudence will permit. The only other contest in the Convention was over State Printer. Nowell, Noltner, Malone, Haley and Sheppard were put in nomination. O'Meara said he never wanted another democratic nominee like Stout, who had been a "know-nothing!" This was a cool remark to come from a man who supported J. Neely Johnson for Governor of California. After several ballotings, Noltner was nominated. This Noltner is a young man who came to Oregon as the attaché of Hall; formerly of the Occidental; has been a partner of Malone, and is now running a small paper at Eugene City.

The Convention ended. There were no speeches, no enthusiasm, no ratification. The whole caucus was thoroughly Breckinridge. Every man on the ticket was a Breckinridger except Wait, and it will take a microscope to see the color of Douglasism about him. Malone was "nearly killed" by his defeat for State printer. Efforts are being made to reconcile him. There is little doubt about the defeat of the whole ticket, and candid Breckinridgers hardly deny it.

DELEGATES.—The following gentlemen were elected delegates to the Union County Convention: St. John's Precinct—Dr. Wm. Caples, Willamette Precinct—Anthony Whitaker and John Powel. Powell's Valley—Jackson Dowell, James Wilson, Gilmore Kelly.

Mr. Gibbs Vote.

Certain parties, who know better, have been busy circulating the report that the Hon. A. C. Gibbs after making speeches for Douglas voted for Breckinridge and Lane. To refute those slanders we publish the following affidavits. Whatever faults Mr Gibbs may have, bad faith is not among them.

STATE OF OREGON, }
County of Multnomah, } ss.

A. C. R. Shaw being duly sworn says, that he was one of the Judges of the Presidential election in the South Portland precinct at which Addison C. Gibbs, Esq. voted. That he called the votes as they were given and knows that said Gibbs voted for the Douglas electors. That he has examined the poll book with the Judges of election which shows that said Gibbs so voted. That he has also examined the poll books sent to the Clerk in which there is an evident mistake as James Terwilliger voted just before Mr. Gibbs and S. Catlin, Jr., just after him. Terwilliger is there represented as voting for both Lincoln and Douglas. Opposite of Mr. Gibbs' name he is represented as voting for Mr. Breckinridge. Opposite of Mr. Catlin's name a blank, he not being represented as voting for anyone. Mr. Terwilliger is known to be a Republican, and Mr. Catlin a Breckinridge man.

A. C. R. SHAW.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 21st day of April A. D. 1862.

STATE OF OREGON, }
County of Multnomah, } ss.

J. C. Carson and J. M. Blossom, being each respectively and duly sworn, say that they acted with A. C. R. Shaw as Judges of the election in this county at which A. C. Gibbs voted for President electors. That to the best of their recollection said Gibbs voted for Douglas. That if he had voted for Breckinridge it would have made such an impression on our minds as to have made us recollect it. We are satisfied that Mr. Gibbs voted for Douglas and not for Breckinridge.

J. C. CARSON,

Subscribed and sworn to before me, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal notarial this 21st day of April A. D. 1862.

PORTLAND, OREGON, April 22d, 1862.

I hereby certify that I was one of the Clerks of the Precinct election in South Portland precinct and as such entered the votes as they were given in the poll book now in the County Clerk's Office. That the vote of A. C. Gibbs, which was for Douglas, by mistake was placed opposite the name of James Terwilliger, who had voted before Mr. Gibbs and for Lincoln, so that the poll book represents Terwilliger as voting for both Lincoln and Douglas. That S. Catlin Jr., voted next after Mr. Gibbs for Breckinridge but by mistake his vote was entered opposite the name of Mr. Gibbs leaving it blank after Catlin's name.

JAS. C. VANRENSSELAER.

ADVERTISING.—Discontinuing to advertise is like taking down one's sign. It is a sort of intimation of retirement from business, and the public treat it as such. Or they may regard it as an evidence that something has gone wrong which requires privacy for investigation. Whatever construction may be put upon it, the result is disastrous. Now we advise all our readers who have fallen into the season to come out of their holes, put up their signs once more, and to advertise in as many papers as they find in the [illegible] of times.—While business creates advertising, it is equally true that advertising creates business. It creates a talk and a stir in business circles, and reminds people that they have no right to be loafing during their lives, even though the times be dull.—Commercial [illegible].

To the Public

The publication of the article by the Board of Directors in yesterday's issue of the Oregonian makes it necessary for me to make a few statements to place myself properly before this community. The County Superintendent stated that according to the system he has adopted, I am not entitled to a first class certificate. I wish to say that I have in my possession two first class certificates obtained in California under the same system. I am fully satisfied from the examination held last Saturday that I am entitled to a first class certificate. I can without hesitating say it was the most unfair examination I ever witnessed. The most overbearing spirit was manifested on the occasion that I ever beheld in any man serving in a public capacity. I gave my answers to the questions asked in writing, which occupied me from 9 o'clock A. M., till 3 P. M., without any intermission. Every question that involved a principle was answered correctly, and those that were missed, were purely a matter of memory. The present Board is fully satisfied that I am perfectly competent to teach the school, and to convince this community of the fact, I am willing to submit myself for an examination before the public and be questioned rigidly by any intelligent man that the Board may appoint for that purpose.

Facts compel me to believe that my certificate is not withheld on the ground of incompetency but from selfish motives. I had a conversation with Mr. Pennoyer before I made application to the present Board of Directors and he remarked that he had been doing almost nothing for several months, waiting for a new Board of Directors to be elected when he fully expected to have the position himself. He further stated that he was justly entitled to it, that he had been treated unjustly by the Board whose time has just expired. Some of the most respectable men of this community have told me lately, that Mr. Pennoyer said in their presence that he was determined either to have the school himself or no one else should have it. I have learned that this is only one of a series of similar acts which have transpired during his administration as County Superintendent.

During the past eight years I have taught schools of all grades, from the Common District School to that embodying the full Collegiate course, and never before failed to get a certificate. Believing that the present Board of Directors will grant me an examination conducted by some competent man, I shall rest satisfied that the present difficulty will be honorably adjusted. Very Respectfully,

O S FRAMBES

P S —As the name of Miss York appeared in the report of the County Superintendent, I will say that she has obtained two certificates in California under the same system of examination. I had engaged her to act as my assistant until Mrs Frambes could arrive from California.

☞ The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR L J CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prize was [illegible] accorded the practitioner in this department of medical science and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Dr [illegible] is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophers of [illegible] in Europe and Dr Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma and the [illegible] degree. Selecting this as his field of operation although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army for more extended labors Dr L J Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the oracle in this branch of his profession throughout the United States and his portrait and biography are published [illegible] ... in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's office is at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of cures [illegible] in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to close their correspondence please enclose $10 in their letters and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L J CZAPKAY M D, San Francisco, Cal.

Information of James B. Hughes Wanted.

JAMES B HUGHES is supposed to have been a resident of Portland, Oregon, for a few years past. His friends in Michigan have not heard from him for a long time since. It was understood by his friends in Michigan that he left for [illegible] about the first of March, 1861, and that he left [illegible] he was a short and thick set man [illegible] broad, and [illegible] school [illegible] present age, if he were living, would be about forty [illegible] years. He went to California in 1850. His native place was Chicago, Ill. It is said he has a wife and two children [illegible]

Should any citizen of Oregon or Washington Territory, or California possess any knowledge of the said James B Hughes, and will communicate the same to the undersigned, the favor will be duly acknowledged.

WHITE CHINA CARD BOARD AND CARDS, at CHARLES BARRETT'S. apr7tf

Ben Blower's Story.

"Are you sure that's the Flame over by the shore?"

"Certing, Manny. I could tell her pipes across the Missouri."

"And you will overhaul her!"

"Won't we, though?" I tell ye, stranger, so sure as my name is Ben Blower, the last tar bar'l I hove in the furnace has put just the smart chance of go ahead into us to cut off the Flame from the pint yonder, or send our boat to kingdom come."

"The devil!" exclaimed a bystander who, intensely interested in the race, was leaning the while against the partitions of the boiler-room. "I've chosen a nice place to see the fun, near the infernal powder barrel!"

"Not so bad as if yer was in it," coolly observed Ben, as the other walked rapidly away.

"As if he were in it! In what? In the boiler?"

"Certing! Don't folks sometimes go into bilers, Manny?"

"I should think there'd be other parts of the boat more comfortable."

"That's right—pokin' fun at me onct—but wait till we're through with the brush with the Flame, and I'll tell you of a regular fixin' scrape that a man may get into. It is true, too, every word of it—as sure as my name is Ben Blower."

"You've seen the Flame then afore, stranger?"

"Six years ago, when new on the river, she was a real out and outer, I tell ye! I was at that time a hand aboard of her. Yes, I belonged to her at the time of her great race Go-liar. You've heern, mayhap, of the blow-up by which we lost it? They made a great fuss about it—but it was nothing but a mere fizz of hot water after all. Only the springing of a few rivets, that loosened a biler plate or two, and let out a thin spirting upon some niggers that did'nt know enough to get out of the way. Well, the Go-liar took off our passengers, and we ran into Smasher's Landing to repair damages, and bury the poor fools that were killed. Here we lay for a matter of thirty hours or so, and got things to rights for a bran new start. There was some carpenter work yet to be done, but the captain said that might just as well be fixed off when we were under way—we had worked hard—the weather was sour, and we needn't do any more jist now—we might take the afternoon to ourselves, but the next morning he'd get steam up mighty airly, and we'd all come out new. There was no temperance society at Smasher's Landing, and I went ashore on a lark with some of the hands."

I omit the worthy Benjamin's adventures on land, and, despairing of fully conveying his language in its original Doric force, will not hesitate to give the rest of his singular narrative in my own words, save where, in a few instances, I can recall his precise phraseology, which the reader will easily recognize.

"The night was raw and sleety when I regained the deck of our boat. The officers, instead of leaving a watch above, had closed up everything and shut themselves in the cabin. The fire-room only was open. The boards, dashed from the outside by the explosion, had not yet been replaced. The floor of the room was wet, and there was scarcely a corner which afforded a shelter from the driving storm. I was about leaving the room, resigned to sleep in the open air, and now bent only upon getting under the lee of some bulkhead that would protect me against the wind. In passing out I kept my arms stretched forward to feel my way in the dark, but my feet came in contact with a heavy iron lid, I stumbled, and as I fell, one of my hands struck into the 'man-hole,' (I think this was the name he gave to the oval-shaped opening in the head of the boiler,) through which the smith had entered to make his repairs. I fell with my arm so far thrust into the aperture that I received a pretty smart blow in the face as it came in contact with the head of the boiler, and I did not hesitate to drag my body after it, the moment I recovered from the stunning effect, and ascertained my whereabouts. In a word, I crept into the boiler, resolved to pass the night there. The place was dry and sheltered. Had my bed been softer, I would have had all that a man could desire; as it was, I slept, and slept soundly.

I should mention, though, that before closing my eyes, I several times shifted my position. I had gone first to the farther end of the boiler, then again I had crawled back to the man-hole and put my head out, to see if it was at the farther end, and there I finally established myself, and that I knew from the first. It was foolish in me to think that the opening through which I had just entered could be closed without my hearing it, and that too when no one was astir but myself. But the blow on my face had made me a little nervous, perhaps, and besides I never could bear to be shut up in any place—it always gives wildlike feeling about the head. You may laugh, stranger, but I believe I should suffocate in an empty church if I once felt that I was shut up in it, and I could not get out. I have met men before now just like me, or worse, rather, much worse. Men that it made sort of furious to be tied down to anything, yet so softlike and contradictory in their natures, that you might lead them anywhere so long as they did not feel the string. Stranger, it takes all sorts of people to make a world! and we have a good many of the worst kind of white men out West. But I have seen folks on this river—quiet-looking chaps, too, as ever you see—who were so tetotally curankleo ankterous that they'd shoot the doctor who'd tell them they couldn't live ailing, and make a die of it just out of spite, when told they must get well. Yes, fellows as fond of the good things of earth as you or I, yet who'd rush like mad over the gang plank of life, if once brought to believe that they had to stay in it whether they wanted to leave it or not.—Thunder and bees! if such a fellow as that had heard the cocks crow as I did, awakened to find darkness about him—darkness so thick that you might cut it with a knife—heard other sounds, too, to tell him that it was morning, and scrambling to fumble for that man-hole, found it, too, black—closed—black and even as the rest of the iron coffin around him—closed, with not a rivet hole to let God's light and air in—why—he'd a swooned right down on the spot, as I did, and I ain't ashamed to own it to no white man."

The big drops actually stood upon the poor fellow's brow, as he now paused for a moment in the recital of his terrible story.—He passed his hand over his rough features, and resumed it with less agitation of manner.

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body, [illegible], Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases [illegible] so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures.—Medicines with full directions, sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of two of the sufferers from the pangs of disease who have been restored to their former health, and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. Their merits [illegible] imperatively command their publication, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned, [illegible] of [illegible] those who may be unfortunately [illegible] similarly afflicted, who [illegible] obtained [illegible] expresses his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the [illegible] recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of [illegible] the passion in youth, [illegible] performing even the most trifling duty [illegible] many years, [illegible] sickness, [illegible] patience—but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment I found to my unutterable horror [illegible] my symptoms [illegible] more alarming in their character, [illegible] my disease being principally [illegible] my health, strength and energy, [illegible] with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case [illegible] instantly relieved [illegible] dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result [illegible] immediately under his care and by a strict [illegible] his directions and advice my health [illegible] and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study and want of resolution, the frightful exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate [illegible] into the snares of incompetent quacks I deem it [illegible] offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

CERTIFICATE.—Being led by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which [illegible] not only an act of scientific skill, but [illegible] About two years ago, I suddenly [illegible] was seized with a fit of [illegible] [illegible] to meet the [illegible] [illegible] medical treatment, and the [illegible] attempting it, [illegible] as to defy the skill of [illegible] physicians. I was frequently while in pursuit of my [illegible] without the slightest [illegible] [illegible] the agonies, I yet [illegible] [illegible] and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance to shelter me from danger [illegible] prolonging the existence of my [illegible] [illegible] state and having previous to my [illegible] the sweets of life. I once more was induced [illegible] [illegible] and by recommendation [illegible] upon Dr. L. J.
